Term Jet Sale
A 'Breakthrough'

PARIS (AP)—Britain's sale of four Viscount jets to Red China was portrayed by British sources Monday as a significant political breakthrough in the great wall of Peiping's isolation from the West.

The controversial trade deal on credit, according to British officials here, provides that technicians of Vickers-Armstrong Aircraft, Ltd., and Rolls-Royce, Ltd., will accompany the airlines to help train Chinese crews and maintain the craft.

It also marks the first time since the establishment of the Communist regime that Peiping has turned to a major Western power for aid and has agreed to admit specialists into Chinese territory, these officials said.

AFL-CIO Keeps
Teamsters Out

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—The AFL-CIO acted Monday to keep out the expelled Teamsters Union so long as it is headed by James R. Hoffa.

Delegates to the AFL-CIO convention adopted a resolution by overwhelming voice vote to take back the Teamsters, or other unions ousted on corruption charges, only when such organizations can meet completely the ethical practices standards of the federation's constitution.

AFL-CIO President George Meany told the delegates he intends to enforce these standards. A spokesman for Meany said that meant the Teamsters won't be readmitted while Hoffa is President.

McCloskey Quits
Democratic Post

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Matthew M. McCloskey, treasurer and chief fund raiser for the Democratic National Committee since 1955, plans to retire from that post by next June, it was reported Monday.

There has been no comment from the wealthy, 68-year-old Philadelphia building contractor. In Washington, acting press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said at the White House the "President intends to lean heavily" on McCloskey during the next year in his present capacity.

Britain Delays
Bomb Delivery

LONDON (AP)—Britain refused Monday to hand over bombs to the United Nations for use in the Congo until it is satisfied about what is going on in Katanga.

The sensational turnabout was announced to a stormy session of the House of Commons by Edward Heath, lord privy seal and deputy foreign minister. Only last week Britain offered 24 half-ton bombs to the United Nations provided they were used only for defense.

Heath made it clear the sudden switch was brought about by developments in the Congo over the weekend, particularly by reports by leading U.N. figures at variance with the policy of the United Nations in Katanga.

Heath said Britain must see the discrepancies clarified before it can authorize release of the bombs.

Cite Ceiling Tile
As Cause Of Fire

BOSTON (AP)—The National Fire Protection Association reported Monday night that fast-burning ceiling tile was the principal reason for the loss of 15 lives in last Friday's Hartford Hospital fire.

Percy Bugbee, general manager of the international fire safety organization, said: "According to preliminary data gathered at the scene by three NFPA staff engineers, fire raced through about 300 feet of corridor within seconds of the time it burst out of the rubbish chute on the ninth floor.

"Combustible ceiling tile was responsible for the rapid spread of the flames and smoke, and the tile added an enormous amount of fuel for the fire to burn.

"Under these conditions, patients, visitors and hospital personnel were trapped with no possibility of escape."

UN Approves
Outer Space Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. main Political Committee approved unanimously Monday a comprehensive program for international cooperation in exploring outer space. Details were worked out in private negotiations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

U.S.-Soviet agreement broke a three-year deadlock on launching a U.N. program aimed at insuring that outer space be used strictly for peaceful purposes.

Delegates from the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France all hailed the agreement as laying the groundwork for fruitful cooperation in mankind's newest scientific field.

Big Four Study Proposal To Make Berlin Into 'UN City'

PARIS (AP)—Proposals to place West Berlin under United Nations protection were laid before the Big Four foreign ministers Monday by their staff of experts. The foreign ministers opened a wide-ranging study of world crises.

At a morning session, before West Germany joined the consultations, the U.S., British and French ministers called for uniting the Congo by peaceful means. Informants said this ruled out recognition of strife-torn Katanga as an independent nation.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville met in the morning at the beginning of a week of momentous consultations that later will embrace all the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Then with Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder of West Germany, they took up the next move, if any, in their dispute with the Soviet Union over the status of West Berlin.

The idea for a U.N. protective cloak for the city came up in a long, detailed report from the ministers' experts on the various political, economic, psychological and other aspects of the Berlin problem.

U.S. sources said the report pointed to the key problem confronting the four ministers: should the West go into negotiations with Russia on Berlin at the present time, or should the West wait for a more favorable occasion? France wants to wait, Rusk and Home, with Schroeder's blessing, want to talk now, considering Berlin the most immediate threat to peace.

The experts raised the idea of moving specialized U.N. agencies—such as the Food and Agricultural Organization and the Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization—to Berlin.

One proposal even goes so far as to suggest moving all the United Nations to Berlin and making the old German capital a completely internationalized city.

The Soviet Union has talked of some sort of U.N. presence in West Berlin but has withheld comment on various proposals to move either the United Nations or some of its agencies to Berlin.

The experts' report also outlined various choices facing the ministers if and when they decide to enter talks with the Russians. One is whether such talks would be restricted to Berlin or expanded to other issues as advocated by France.

Another is whether contacts with the Russians should be confined to normal diplomatic channels or eventually conducted on a higher ministerial or even summit level.

There are no differences among the Western countries on their long-range purposes—the freedom of West Berlin, and maintenance of Allied rights of access to this outpost deep behind the Iron Curtain.

The Katanga question undoubtedly will get urgent consideration when the Big Three ministers join Belgium and other NATO members in talks beginning Wednesday.

McSparran-Yetter Meeting
Wednesday Open To Public

A PUBLIC meeting is scheduled tomorrow evening at eight o'clock in the ballroom of the Penn-Stroud Hotel between J. Collins McSparran, master of the Pennsylvania State Grange, and Van D. Yetter, Monroe County representative in the General Assembly.

The meeting was arranged by the State Grange following a series of statements by the Monroe County representative concerning actions of Mr. McSparran, which he stated were detrimental to the best interests of the Grange, which McSparran heads statewide.

Dr. Alfred Sunberg, professor of Social Studies at East Stroudsburg State College, will act as moderator for the session.

Grange officials have pointed out that the meeting is open to the public, not only Grange members. Anyone who is interested in the issues involved may attend.

Scientists Probe Results Of Underground Nuclear Blast

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP)—Wearing white and yellow radiation-protection suits, scientists probed cautiously Monday for treasures of knowledge from the world's first known underground nuclear explosion detonated for purely peaceful purposes.

They prepared for immediate drilling into the cavity they hope was created a quarter-mile underground by Sunday's explosion of a special five kiloton "peace bomb."

They were heartened to find radiation levels had fallen precipitously in the 1,200-foot deep mine shaft. It was out of this shaft that a steamy white radioactive cloud of gas poured Sunday. The cloud spread fast-day, radioactivity over the countryside, but all checks so far found no one had been injured, said James Reeves, test manager for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Something happened so the cavity created in the salt rock became a "leaky boiler," and the steam poured out the shaft 1,100 feet away. The radiation intensity right after the blast had been 10,000 Roentgens per hour at the top of the shaft. Monday it fell to only one Roentgen, said John Kelly of the AEC.

Wisps of steam still rose from vent pipes from the tunnel, but none from the mine shaft.

Newsman could see blast-caused cracks in the ground. The explosion, equal to 5,000 tons of TNT, caused a very moderate earthquake jiggling in Carlsbad 23 miles northwest.

There was very little radiation on top of ground zero.

It was hoped the cavity would remain intact, full of molten salt and steam. By pumping water down, steam could be brought up and such steam one day might be used to generate electricity.

Walter Asks
Potatoes For Relief Cases

Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP)—Distribution of some of the government-owned surplus potatoes to persons on relief was urged Monday by Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa.

The Agriculture Department announced last week it would purchase potatoes for distribution in the school lunch program and to welfare institutions.

Walter in conversations with department officials Monday, followed up by correspondence, said potato growers told him they appreciated the department's move, but asked that the surplus potatoes also be distributed to all needy persons.

"It is our feeling," Walter said in a letter, "that when persons need food and when money is available as is the case here, that the department of agriculture should take such action.

The resolution stated potato growers are confronted with "unfair competition" by the Agriculture Department's supplying persons on relief with other surplus commodities that "substantially hurt the movement of fresh potatoes."

In Pennsylvania, the resolution noted, the department has distributed 2½ million pounds of rice to relief recipients in the last six months.

Stock Exchange
Head Resigns

NEW YORK (AP)—Edward T. McCormick, president of the American Stock Exchange, resigned suddenly Monday.

There was immediate speculation that he was under pressure from elements of the financial community.

Quitting with him was Michael E. Mooney, general counsel.

They said "recent publicity" made them feel it would be in the best interests of the exchange if they served their connections.

Could Be Sent To Gallows

Eichmann Convicted; Sentencing To Come

JERUSALEM (AP)—Adolf Eichmann's Israeli judges convicted him Monday of "unsurpassed" crimes against the Jewish people. Their judgment linked the former Gestapo colonel directly to three major phases in the Nazi plot to exterminate six million Jews.

The 55-year-old onetime chief of the Gestapo's Jewish affairs section stood ramrod-straight, without a change of expression, as the court pronounced the verdict, which could send him to the gallows.

Eichmann is liable to the death penalty under terms of a 1950 law he has been convicted of violating. The verdict came 18 months after Israeli agents abducted Eichmann from Argentina and flew him here for trial.

Sentencing will be pronounced later this week.

Eichmann was permitted to resume his seat behind bullet-proof glass as his three judges alternated in reading their judgment. He never took his eyes off the bench as the justices read out a citation of him as a "chief executor" of:

1. Persecution of the Jews in Germany from 1933 to 1939.
2. Persecution of the Jews from the outbreak of World War II to mid-1941.
3. Final solution of the Jewish problem—extermination.

Opening the day's proceedings, presiding Judge Moshe Landau, in a stern and uncompromising tone, ordered Eichmann to stand, then announced: "Accused, the court convicts you of crimes against the Jewish people, crimes against humanity, war crimes and of being a member of a hostile organization."

The brief verdict, read out rapidly, embraces the entire 15-count indictment against Eichmann, but the court will not get around to ruling on each of the 15 counts until the latter phases of its 300-page judgment.

Eichmann's oft-repeated contention that he was only a cog in the Nazi apparatus who carried out orders "but never initiated them" was rejected by the court.

Citing evidence showing that Eichmann was present at the 1942 conference which drew up plans for carrying out the "final solution" of the Jewish problem, the court ruled: "It was at this conference that the accused's position as the authorized executor of the final solution was defined in the presence of higher authorities."

The judges cited a handwritten note by a Nazi official on a memorandum from Belgrade asking what should be done with 8,000

Yugoslav Jews. The notation read: "Eichmann recommends killing by shooting."

The judgment traced Eichmann's persecution of the Jews country by country through all Nazi-occupied Europe.

In the first phase of the pogrom, when Jews were degraded and deprived of citizen rights, in the second phase of the anti-Jewish campaign, from 1939 to mid-1941, the court accepted evidence showing that Eichmann had power to bypass his immediate superiors in order to deport Jews in a reign of terror which brought death to thousands.

Fatal Shooting In Woods At
Pocono Summit Is Probed

POCONO SUMMIT — A 37-year-old man was killed yesterday by a bullet while he was gathering wood less than 300 feet from the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Freach.

State Police Sgt. Harry Zimmerman, Mount Pocono barracks, identified the victim as John Jedju, a resident of Pocono Summit and an employee of Pocono Manor. Time of the shooting was estimated at about 4 p.m.

State Police and Game Protector John Spencer remained at the scene to continue the investigation.

Portable lights were called to the scene and deputy game wardens and firemen spread through the woods in an attempt to locate any evidence of the location from which the fatal shot was fired.

An autopsy made last night revealed that the bullet entered the right side of the rib cage, at the seventh rib, and made an exit at the point of the left shoulder.

Monroe County Coroner Daniel G. Warner and Deputy Coroner John C. F. Foelker said, "The body was hit by a projectile of a very high velocity."

Coroner Warner added, "Death was a result of a gunshot wound. Death was almost instantaneous. The investigation will be continued."

From early investigation it was assumed that Jedju was leaning over and piling up the lumber when the bullet struck him.

In Underclothing
The spent bullet was located in his underclothing as a Monroe County pathologist prepared to make the autopsy in the Monroe County General Hospital.

Officials at the autopsy did not comment on the bullet of the rifle or handgun that fired the fatal shot. The bullet will be sent to State Police Laboratory, Harrisburg, where ballistics tests will be made to determine the caliber of the projectile and the weapon that fired it.

The path of the bullet was also established by the autopsy. After entering the rib cage on the right side it passed through the right lung, forward part of the spinal column, left lung and into the right shoulder where it shattered the shoulder bone. The flight of the bullet was almost a straight line.

Jedju left the house of his mother-in-law to gather wood from a small shed that had been torn down. The shed had been built by children in the neighborhood from lumber they found around the locality.

Joseph DeSanto, a neighbor, said, "The kids gave up the building after a colony of ants took it over."

Room Clerk
Jedju was employed by Pocono Manor as a room clerk and had also been registration clerk and cashier at the golf course there.

Mrs. Martha Jedju, the victim's wife, is employed as a secretary in the Pocono Mountain Joint Schools at Swiftwater. She was waiting at the school for her husband to come and drive her home.

Monroe County Coroner Warner released the body to the Gantzhorn funeral home, Tannersville. The body was then taken to the hospital for the autopsy. Following the autopsy it was released to the Grose funeral home, Mount Pocono, at the request of the family.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by the Grose funeral home.

Court Overturns Conviction
Of 16 Sit-In Demonstrators

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court overturned Monday the conviction of 16 Negro sit-in demonstrators in Louisiana but left unanswered broad constitutional questions raised by the sit-in controversy.

The Congress of Racial Equality quickly hailed the decision as the dawning of a "new day" for Negroes, but officials of Southern states said it would have little effect on hundreds of similar pending cases.

The attorney general of Louisiana said the high court did not pass on the constitutionality of the state's so-called sit-in law.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, delivering the court's opinion, pointedly confined the unanimous decision to the Constitution's due process clause as applied to the convictions.

He said it was not necessary to consider other constitutional questions raised in the Louisiana cases—freedom of expression and equal protection.

Nor, Warren said, was it necessary to decide in Monday's decision whether a private business owner has the right to serve only whom he chooses, a question Louisiana had raised. He said evidence that in the three 1960 Baton Rouge cases involved, at no time did representatives of the store owners ask the Negroes to leave the "white only" lunch counters.

These other questions could be touched on if the court agrees to hear Virginia and North Carolina sit-in cases presented to it.

The 16 Negroes, all students of Southern University in Baton Rouge were convicted under a Louisiana law making it a breach of the peace to "act in such a manner as to unreasonably disturb or alarm the public."

Each was sentenced to four months in prison, with three months to be suspended on payment of $100 fines.

Warren said there was no evidence that the Negroes "disturbed the peace, either by outwardly boisterous conduct or by passive conduct likely to cause a public disturbance."

Louisiana had contended that the police were justified in making the arrests because they feared violence might erupt.

In Louisiana, State Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion said it appeared to him that the Supreme Court overturned the 16 convictions merely on grounds of lack of evidence.

Fire In Tree Alerts Barrett Firemen Sat.

BARRETT—A fire in a gum tree called 31 members of the Barrett Volunteer Fire Department and two trucks out at 6:50 p.m. recently.

Mrs. Nina Musselman, a visitor to the Edward Harrison home, Hardsytown Road, reported the fire, which was located on the Harrison property some 200 yards from the end of the road.

Firemen took Indian tanks and an axe into the swamp and woods to reach the site of the fire which was inaccessible by road. After burning a fire break, the tree was chopped down and the blaze put out by the men.

Fire Chief George Huguenin said the fire was caused by a hunter who apparently built a small fire to get warm. The hollow tree acted like a chimney and drew the embers into a finger of flame which brought the crew out.

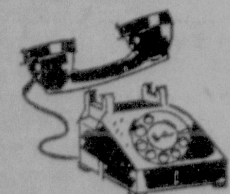

Members of the Harrison family reported that hunters had been seen entering the woods at that spot earlier in the day.

A. Stanley Pensyl, Brother Of S-burg Resident

STANLEY H. Pensyl, 57, president of the East Bangor School Board and a brother of Stewart Pensyl, of Stroudsburg, died unexpectedly Saturday while helping decorate Bethel Lutheran Church, Johnsonville, for Christmas. He lived on Bray St., East Bangor.

George A. Kameiz, Northampton County coroner, said death was due to a heart attack. Mr. Pensyl was on a ladder at the time and fell approximately six feet to the roof of the church.

A member of the East Bangor School Board for 19 years, he was employed as a plumber by Bieler and Son, Inc., Pen Argyl. He was a past president and treasurer of the East Bangor Lions Club and treasurer of the East Bangor Cemetery Assn.

He was also a member of Bethel Lutheran Church and taught the Golden Circle Class of its Sunday School. He was formerly superintendent of the church school at Grace Lutheran Church, East Bangor, for 23 years and served on the church council.

A native of Upper Mt. Bethel Township, he was the son of Mrs. Idella Hoffman Pensyl, Bangor, RD 1, and the late Franklin Pensyl.

In addition to his mother and brother, he is survived by his wife, the former Bernice Ackerman; a sister, Mrs. Mae Beck, Bangor, and two other brothers, Harry, Portland, and Elmer, Pensyl, Johnsonville.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Bethel Lutheran Church.

'Mail Early For Christmas' Campaign In High Gear

STRODSBURG Postmaster Fred H. Rhodes announced yesterday that his 1961 "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign is now in high gear.

He stated he was extremely happy to report that yesterday was the busiest December 11 he had experienced in many years.

If the public continues to cooperate so well for the balance of the week, they will be of great assistance to their mail carriers who are trying to accomplish the Post Office Department's challenge of delivering all the mail every day in one trip," Rhodes said.

The Postmaster said further, "I cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of careful Christmas mailing procedures.

For example, it is best to print the recipients full name, street address, city, zone number and state on each mailing label, making sure to include an extra label inside your gift packages."

For added convenience, the Post Office windows will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., Dec. 12 through Dec. 23 inclusive, except Sundays. All mail going long distances should be sent as soon as possible.

Rhodes said that we can make it a merrier Christmas for everybody if we follow three simple rules: Wrap our Christmas gifts securely; Address our cards and gifts correctly; and mail them now.

Satellites Of The Future

Some few years ago, satellites were just a subject of writing by science-fiction authors, and were thought to be so far in the future that they would never be a reality in this generation. However, recent history and accomplishments have changed all this, and even today, there are numerous satellite orbiting in space.

While the subject of satellites may seem over the head of the man in the street, they will be in the near future become a part of his everyday life. At the present time, the average man looks upon them as scientific projects that have little popular use. The use of satellites is fast becoming of interest in many fields.

One of the major fields of such interest is communications. As far back as 1946, the U. S. Army sent radar signals to the moon and got them back in about 2½ seconds. At the present time, orbiting satellites are kept in constant communication with earth stations.

At the present time, inter-continental cables and radio channels are becoming inadequate. It will not be long before such communications are handled by satellite relay stations in outer space. Such use of space is really at hand.

While governments have seemingly been the only ones interested in the progress of satellites, private enterprise has not been lacking in interest. Some time ago, the major communications companies in the United States and some few abroad offered to help finance the use of space for communications, and some progress has been made on the idea.

There are many aspects of the situation, but the primary one should be from the start to allow private enterprise to develop the commercial aspects of communications, rather than to allow government to get into the business end of the deal so much so that it will constitute a monopoly on it before we know it.

The plan of allowing private business in on the development of the space field will also have the big advantage of financing it from individual capital, rather than from out of the taxpayers' pockets.

It is well for the government to develop the phases with which it is concerned, but when it gets down to commercial use, let the private enterprise system, which is the backbone of the American economy, develop that phase.

Federal Payroll Costs

Only a tiny part of the federal governments army of civilian employees works in Pennsylvania, but even so the state's share amounts to a hefty total of 129,084, or over one out of every 90 residents.

The congressional committee which keeps tab on federal payrolls reports that in September the total number of civilian employees was 2,427,216. Those working in Pennsylvania accounted for about one-half of one per cent of the total.

Significant to note is the fact that the September figure was some 17,000 below that of August. However, it was 92,000 higher than when the current administration took over last January.

The civilian payroll costs reached an all-time high of $13.6 billion in fiscal 1961 which ended last June 30. This was equivalent to $242 for every U. S. family, a sharp contrast with the per family cost of $134 as recently as 1947.

There are many both in official circles and out who firmly believe the civilian payroll could be cut substantially — some say by as much as 10 per cent — without impairing the efficiency of governmental services. There is now some indication that this view is shared by the Administration.

In the face of the alarming increase in the expected federal deficit in the current fiscal year, President Kennedy called for reduced spending by the government in a statement to his Cabinet on October 26. Specifically, he expressed a desire "that the number of government employees be limited to the minimum consistent with getting the job done."

Available data certainly indicates that a cutback in civilian payroll spending can be effected. The next report of the congressional committee should provide evidence as to the effect of the President's appeal and whether or not a spending reversal really is setting in.

Thunder On The Right

When a movement is discussed, the writer needs to understand what it means. Such a movement as the Rightist or the Leftist represents ideas, concepts of life, the meaning of events. The reporter who runs to a fire or who gets excited over a kidnapping is not necessarily capable of understanding a mass movement which is basically philosophic.

In fact, many who speak most loudly in these movements cannot describe them with any degree of accuracy. They know that something has happened but what is important is why it has happened.

Thus "Newsweek" recently published a lengthy article on "Thunder on the Far Right," the material for which was gathered by several persons and the collation assembled by someone who picked an item here and there out of a congeries of material.

To one who has studied Rightist movements in the United States, the article is puzzling because it is not a study of mass response to a philosophic concept but rather a selection of items about that and that.

No sociologist in a foreign land could possibly get a correct picture of the Rightist from the article although he might put together items which are occasionally sensational and occasionally exciting. It is a job of tailoring, not of study.

The Rightist movement in the United States is a response of youth in the 1960's to the ideological offenses of the 1930's. It is a revolt against an effort to impose upon the American mind an offensively alien concept of life. As such movements always do, the Rightist movement in the United States swings from extreme reaction to middle-of-the-road resistance to Leftist movements, particularly Communism.

Among anti-Communists are numerous segments of the population ranging from intellectual opponents of Marxism who have profoundly studied both the economics and sociology of Marxism to those who are indignant that the course of events has changed without their consent.

Just as the Communists believe in historic inevitability, assuming that unless things go their way, they are unscientific, so the extreme Rightists assume that all human movements which differ from their concept of what is right are essentially evil.

Among the latter are religious fundamentalists who do not understand the Hebrew Bible but demand that every word of it translated into post-Elizabethan English be accepted as absolute truth. Curiously, while many of them do not question a comma or a semi-colon of King James's version of the Hebrew Bible, they are nevertheless anti-Semites devising numerous concepts to justify their confusions.

From this irrational reaction to the scholarship of Eugene Lyons or Lawrence Fertig, to mention only two names that come to mind, is a vast range of thinkers who are no more closely associated than Earl Browder and Norman Thomas on the Left or James Wechsler and Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., in the center. Unfortunately, the author of the "Newsweek" study of Rightism throws everything together into a pot-pourri. He makes no sharp distinctions of what is being thought by a variety of persons of differing experience.

Much is made of the John Birch Society, a newcomer in the political world which has taken over what remains of the Joe McCarthy effort. Bob Welch, the leader of the John Birch Society, was in the candy business in Massachusetts but he is very new in any kind of ideological struggle and it is doubtful whether he has studied the literature of Marxism although he is efficiently opposed to this movement.

It is not to be assumed that Bob Welch or even Dr. Fred Schwarz, an Australian who operates out of Long Beach, California, could stand up in an intellectual discussion on Marxism.

They are emotional anti-Communists which is insufficient to influence the scholarly mind. Anti-Communism is not sufficient as a mass movement. A mass movement must be positive; its assertions must be related to the growth of the human mind, not merely a resistance to the development of offensive movements.

What is interesting about the Rightist movement is not that it displays varieties of human emotions but rather that here is an opposition to Marxism and even to Liberalism. True, American conservatism has not yet established its own ideas fully but out of the welter of contesting concepts, a philosophy will develop which will provide the leadership which the country sorely needs.

Men Who Hopes To Come To Dinner

The Pennsylvania Story

No New Taxes Next Year

Harrisburg — Pennsylvanians are destined to find doves of fiscal happiness floating over their heads next year. It won't necessarily be the end result of any great prosperity blanketing the Keystone State — in fact this will be far from the case — but rather a simple point of political historicity.

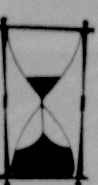

Pennsylvania's moneychangers — in this case virtually all 11 million of them who go by the dubious title of "taxpayers" — are not destined to have any new taxes levied upon their billion-dollar souls come the next fiscal year.

Or at least that is the gist of the pronouncement being uttered these days by Pennsylvania's thrifty (biggest budget of record) Governor Lawrence and administration aides.

Now, the no-new-tax theme to be presented to the 1962 Legislature when it convenes January 2 unquestionably sounds somewhat exciting — sort of pocket-tingling.

It is just that, and it is designed for just that purpose. Next year, it should be remembered, is the year Democratic boss Green's minions in Philadelphia and voters in the rest of the state will elect a brand new chief executive for Pennsylvania.

Mirror of Time

—by J. D. Shafer

10 Years Ago

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College students participated in the annual ceremonies of lighting the Christmas tree on the college campus.

New lights were installed in the Stroudsburg YMCA and the lounge was given a new coat of paint.

East Stroudsburg High School swamped Nazareth 53-25 in their opening basketball game.

Joe DeMaggio announced he was going to retire from baseball.

20 Years Ago

Harry Hill, of Stroudsburg was crushed to death by a truck. The accident occurred at a gas station in Delaware, N. J.

The girl's drill team of East Stroudsburg High School made its first appearance at half-time of the Easton-East Stroudsburg basketball game.

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College basketball team defeated Seton Hall 40-37 before a crowd of 3,200 people.

The New York Giants purchased Johnny Mize from the St. Louis Cardinals for an undisclosed amount.

In addition they will elect a full 210-member State House of Representatives, fill 25 of the 50 seats available in the State Senate, and among other things, name 27 congressmen from the Keystone State.

The point is, the stakes are high come 1962, as even we poor souls outside the big city limits of Philadelphia can grasp — can't we?

Under the circumstances therefore it behooves the political old crones far and wide to what their knives and prepare for the great carving of 1962.

Political strategists are of the firm belief (for some odd reason!) that one of the best knife-throwers is the personal pocket-book. Apparently they are quite right.

This is why next year will go down once again as the year the doves of fiscal happiness floated overhead.

No new taxes, says the Governor, and equal for about the first time in more than a dozen years when the fiscal bong clatters next May 31 marking the end of this fiscal year, Mr. Lawrence vows now, "we expect to end this fiscal year without a deficit."

These unquestionably should be joyous tidings, they're supposed to be.

The no-new-tax theme is an excellent theme for a campaign year; it always has been an always will be. That's the way administration Democrats look at it — and it's the way anti-administration Republicans look at it.

If the Governor goes through with his purported program (and at this point there certainly is nothing to indicate he wouldn't or won't), it is inconceivable that legislative Republicans will insist on the levy of any additional taxes next year — even though they do feel strongly that for example, school subsidies to local districts should be boosted.

Thus the proposition is reduced to the singular premise that neither of the two branches of government (legislative and executive) that can directly or indirectly bring about new tax levies will move on the new-tax front next year.

Pennsylvania may go to pot fiscally before the next fiscal year is over and done with—but campaign year strategy stands firm for 1962!

The moral might be: go out and buy that big, handsome new house — but you may have to sell it two years hence!

What everyone — that is, the candidates — will have to say when the campaign gun starts booming next year most certainly should prove to be of more than passing interest!

"Don't take a class in embroidery—take carpentry and help finish your apartment," she said.

But if one chooses to live alone, she should enjoy it. Miss Rosentour said. She advised:

"Don't let society browbeat you. Examine yourself. Decide what you really want out of life. Remember, it's better to be single and happy than married and miserable."

The Allen-Scott Report

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

Washington, December 12 — The National Security Council, top policy agency of the government, is engaged in an extraordinary undertaking.

On orders of President Kennedy, the Council is making a study to determine whether he has the authority to approve the sale of large quantities of government-owned surplus grain and other food to Russia, Red China and the satellites.

All are seeking these U. S. commodities.

As far back as last spring, the Soviet sought to buy 500,000 tons of U.S. grain. And several weeks ago, this column revealed that Red China and Albania, confronted with steadily growing food shortages due to protracted droughts and bureaucratic bungling, had put out feelers through the British to purchase more than 6 million tons of wheat and barley.

But a major barrier to that is a little-known provision voted by Congress in this year's Agricultural Act.

Under it, government-owned farm surpluses can be sold to foreign countries only if the President specifically declares them to be "friendly nations."

Exact language of this provision, sponsored by Representative Delbert Latta, R. O., is as follows: "It is hereby declared to be the policy of Congress . . . in no manner either to export, sell, or make available any subsidized agricultural commodities to any nations other than such friendly nations."

Legal authorities of the Agriculture Department have held that this provision bars the sale of surplus food to Communist countries unless labeled "friendly" by the President.

Yugoslavia and Poland have been so designated, and have obtained U. S. commodities. But they are the only ones so far.

Apparent purpose of the unusual study the Security Council is making at the behest of the President is to ascertain whether surplus food can be sold to other Communist countries — presumably including Red China — despite the congressional roadblock in the 1961 Agricultural Act.

The Big Hitch — There are significant inside indications that the administration is willing to sell some of the huge surplus grain stores to Russia, Hungary, East Germany, and possibly Red China and Albania — but not as "friendly nations."

Unless some way can be found to legally bypass this restriction, the President will not risk the stormy furor such sales would certainly arouse.

That's why the Security Council is engaged in trying to find a legal way out of this dilemma — with the help of the Justice Department. Attorney General Robert Kennedy took part in the Council meeting that considered this explosive problem, and has put some of his ablest attorneys to work on it.

Congress voted the Red trade limitation as a direct result of apparent Administration plans to sell surplus grain to the Soviet.

Last June, through U. S. exporters, Moscow approached the Agriculture Department to buy 500,000 tons of wheat. The State Department favored that, and at its instigation the Commerce Department modified export licensing policy to clear the way for such sales.

At the time, diplomatic authorities understood Russia was seeking this grain for its satellites and Red China. But before a deal could be negotiated, Congress intervened.

Representative Latta offered his restrictive provision which was voted by both the House and Senate. That effectively blocked this sale and others to Communist countries, with the exception of Yugoslavia and Poland which the President designated as "friendly nations."

In addition to slamming this door, the House also set up a special investigating committee, headed by Representative Paul Kitchen, D. N.C., to get at the bottom of reports that NATO countries are materially aiding the development of Iron Curtain defense and heavy industries by exporting hundreds of millions of dollars of latest-model strategic and technological machines and equipment.

The probers already have ascertained that Britain is by far the largest exporter of these crucial supplies, foremost of which are a $120 million steel plant and 500 railway tank cars to East Germany.

Another Committee disclosure sheds significant light on Russia's attempt to buy 500,000 tons of wheat.

Assistant Agriculture Secretary John Duncan was questioned about that and the Commerce Department's action to make the sale possible. Following in Duncan's account of this backstage affair:

"What was the rationalization behind the policy that led to the June 22 Commerce Department order?" asked Representative Kitchen.

"We had feelers from Russia for 500,000 tons of wheat," replied Duncan. "We did not have authority to sell the grain because of regulations which then prevailed. But we were aware that Canada was selling commodities to Red China. I mentioned this to Assistant Secretary of State Edwin Martin. He asked me very frankly what I thought about it."

"I made the remark that the Russians would pay cash for the grain, and that I personally saw nothing wrong in selling it. That was all I said. Nothing more. The next thing I knew, the Inter-Agency Committee on Export Controls met, and out came this June 22 regulation making the sale possible."

Question Authority Of Sale Of Grain

Inside You And Yours

From Blood To Maternity

By Burton H. Fern, M.D.

"A Boy? The hospital's wrong! Mine's a girl! Boys don't run in our family!"

Boys don't run in any family — neither do girls. Half of all male sperm cells carry boy-building directions; the other half call for girls.

Every baby inherits two matched sets of building directions, one from Mom and one from Dad. Blood type directions in each set call for either type A or type B chemical. Sometimes the space is blank, calling for neither.

Every order is filled, even though it appears on only one list. You don't need a double order for A or B to wind up with type A or type B blood.

Blank Orders If both blood type orders are blank, you'll have neither A nor B, but blood type O. One order for A and one for B blends to give you type AB blood. Baby inherits one order from each parent.

Type AB Moms and Dads must contribute an order for either A or B. Baby can't be type O.

When both parents are type O, neither has any A or B orders to contribute. Here, Baby must be type O.

Less clear-cut are type A and type B parents who may have inherited single or double orders. You can't tell which. Also, you can't stop the wrong baby from having the right blood type.

But when lab specialists run down 10 to 20 different blood factors, they can almost single out the parents. On one loss of the coin, the odds are 49:50 (1 to 1), but the odds against 10 coins all coming up the right way are 1,023 to 1.

To keep lab expenses and mothers' tempers under control, no baby leaves the delivery room without an identification bracelet. Mix-ups don't happen — even when Mom insists her baby's a girl!

It was all cozy and snug inside that blue blanket. The pink ones were all in the hospital laundry!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

Walter Winchell

Memos To Editors

Castro's admission that he is a Communist is on a par with such astounding revelations as the fact that water is wet and the sun is hot.

Nevertheless, there are some significant ramifications in his confession. He arrogantly boasted that he has always been a Communist and sought to hide his true red-yellow colors because "we might have alienated the bourgeoisie and other forces which we would eventually have to fight." Consequently, Castro extended his power and reddened Cuba while denying he is a Communist. In addition, U. S. newspapermen who wrote the truth about him were denounced as "liars and enemies of Cuba."

About two years ago this reporter wrote: "Dictator Castro does not represent the Cuban people. He is a member of the Red Army. And he is an enemy of liberty everywhere. His tactics, strategy and objectives function in close alliance with Moscow and Peking. During the past few months Cuban diplomatic missions throughout Central America and Mexico have been intensifying propaganda and political activities. Their primary target is the United States. And their ultimate objective is the conquest of Latin America. The foregoing facts cannot be casually dismissed. Castro as an individual is a dangerous lunatic, of course. More important—he has the political, economic and military support of Khrushchev and Mao. In other words, the Moscow-Peking-Havana Axis clearly endangers the security of the United States."

A book written by Herbert L. Matthews was published several weeks ago. Mr. Matthews is a foreign correspondent and editorial writer of the N. Y. Times.

Matthews wrote: "From the time of the execution in Cuba in the early months of 1959, the American press, radio and television were emotionally and overwhelmingly hostile. Once the label of Communism was pinned on Fidel and his regime —and this, too, was early in 1959—the hysteria that accompanies the American attitude toward Communism worked its poison."

Incredibly, Matthews blamed Americans for making Castro a Moscow ally. Of course, the Cuban tyrant now admits he had been a Red from the start. And in his book Matthews contends again and again that Castro is not a Communist. And he writes that Castro "has a low opinion of the Cuban Communist."

Several months ago the Senate Internal Security subcommittee issued an important document. It offered the testimony of Robert C. Hill, former U. S. Ambassador to Mexico. Hill testified that he was aware that Castro was pro-Communist as far back as 1948. He repeatedly sent such reports to the State Dept. The reports were apparently ignored.

A Garden Is A Place For Relaxing

A GARDEN is a place for relaxing, away from the noise and turmoil of everyday life.

Even the finest garden can be made into a simple, lovely outdoor living room for maximum enjoyment by the addition of just a few permanent installations.

A deck, connected to the house or tucked away by itself for a retreat, is an ideal addition to any garden. It can be just a simple platform of wood 2x4s set upon a solid foundation of small timbers. It can be expanded to have a bench seat running around its perimeter. It can have a simple sunshade. These items can all be built of lumber, like Douglas fir, obtainable at any retail lumber yard.

The garden can be a retreat during the long summer months and, the more comfortable you make it, the more it will be used.

Satiny

ON THING women love about Douglas fir interior paneling is its smooth, satiny surface. Although it has great beauty when finished naturally to let its exquisite grain and textures show, fir will also take paints or stains just as readily.

Dear Abby

The Mold's Already Set

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently visited our daughter at the State University. We were amazed at the freedom these college girls are given. After their freshman year they have almost no supervision. No wonder so many of our young people get into trouble. Is this the new trend? What is wrong with our universities?

MOTHER OF A SOPHOMORE

Dear Mother: Nothing is wrong with our universities. It's our homes. A child comes to the university with the moral code and set of values he has learned at home. One should not expect an academic institution to do the job that should have been done by parents years before.

Dear Abby: A man in our office is the world's biggest heel. He's the type who will make time with a girl in the evening and talk about it the next day.

He is now trying to con a sweet little 22-year-old farm girl into letting him drive her home for the Christmas holidays. It's a 500-mile trip, which I'm sure he doesn't intend to make in one day—if you know what I mean. This little kid started working here in June and might accept his offer in order to save the plane fare.

Who should wise up the girl? Or should someone tell the boss? Don't suggest talking to the man. He thinks he's a gift to women.

IN THE OFFICE

Dear In: A kiss-and-tell reputation gets around an office fast. Either the girl doesn't know better (in which case YOU should tell her) or she isn't the "sweet kid" you think she is.

Dear Abby: My mother-in-law used to make a very delicious cake. There was NO flour in it, but she used a half cup of meal. It was the best cake I ever tasted. Everyone wanted the recipe but she never gave it out. She carried it in her hand. Well, she died, may the Lord rest her soul, and she took the recipe with her. I can't find a recipe like it anywhere. It stood as high as an angel cake and she folded the egg whites and yolks in separately. Can you or any of your readers help me?

MRS. L.

Dear Mrs. L.: I think I have your recipe. Send me your name and a self-addressed, stamped envelope and it's yours.

Confidential to Homesick: You are married to a VERY sick man. Tell him that he either goes for psychiatric help or you will not continue to live like a prisoner in your own home.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of this paper.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50c to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

WE MUST NEVER STOP LEARNING

Each year more than 300 new medicines are made available for physician prescribing. As quickly as each one is released for safe use we stock it in our prescription laboratory.

Then, we study to learn their dosage, storage problems, incompatibilities when combined with other drugs and therapeutic uses. For . . . we often can save a busy physician's time by answering questions about new products.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US WHEN YOU NEED A MEDICINE

Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Decrease Is Recorded In Tuberculosis

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania recorded a slight decrease in the number of active cases of tuberculosis uncovered this year, a Health Department official said recently.

Dr. Harold E. Coder said 3,123 active cases were reported during the first 10 months of 1961. There were 3,128 cases in the same period last year. The 12-month total in 1960 was 3,711 cases.

In addition, 1,337 inactive cases of tb were discovered in the first 10 months of this year.

Coder, director of tuberculosis control, said the majority of cases were found in the urban, industrial areas of western and southeastern Pennsylvania.

Coder explained that an active case is one in which the disease has been determined by X-ray and laboratory examinations to be spreading.

"The person considered an active case is a public health hazard because he is capable of spreading the disease to others," Coder added.

An inactive case, he said, is one in which the disease is considered to be regressing or is considered to be under control of the individual's body defense mechanisms.

He gave a breakdown showing that 88 per cent of the active cases were reported in these counties:

Philadelphia, 1,202; Allegheny, 492; Luzerne, 127; Delaware, 116; Lackawanna, 93; Schuylkill, 85; Montgomery, 69; Bucks, 57; Cambria, 51; Erie, 51; Dauphin, 49; Lehigh, 43; Berks, 41; Beaver, 40; 40; Fayette, 38; Lancaster, 38; Chester, 36; Northampton, 36, and Northumberland, 31.

Plan Work On Liberty Bell

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The yoke and wooden frame supporting the Liberty Bell in historic Independence Hall is going to be reinforced by steel.

The support structure for the famed bell has been showing signs of deteriorating with age.

When the work is being done, starting next month, the bell will be placed in a special support so that it will continue to remain on display.

Drivers kill and cripple more children than any disease!

We have a vaccine for polio. And it works. Our best medical researchers say we're zeroing in on cancer. But what are we doing to wipe out the worst child killer of all—traffic accidents? Yes, drivers—careless drivers—kill and cripple more children than any disease! Here's one thing you can do. That everyone ought to do. Write to your local enforcement officials. Tell them:

"I Support Strict Law Enforcement!"

When officials know they have the backing of the community, they can do a far more effective job of protecting your children. In communities all over the country, the records prove it: Where traffic laws are strictly enforced and obeyed, deaths go down!

E. Stroudsburg Team Loses Six Players; 5 Quit

East Stroudsburg High School basketball coach Doug Schoonover will be without six players when his club opens its season at Pleasant Valley tonight. Five of the Cavalier players quit the squad Monday and the sixth was injured in an automobile accident. The five men dropped from the squad were Harold Myers, Brian Farris, Mike Monshell, John Mosher and Ron Fish. Myers and Farris were varsity starters last year and the other three started for the junior varsity. Schoonover said the players gave varied reasons for leaving the squad, including grades, injuries and lack of interest. Schoonover lost Bill Williams indefinitely when Williams broke his hand in an automobile accident.

Guessers Say Ewbank May Lose His Job

BALTIMORE (AP) — Grumbling over performance of the Baltimore Colts this season led Monday to the inevitable question — will the coach be fired? Baltimore newspapers have taken up the speculation that the ax will fall on Weeb Ewbank after the National Football League ends for the Colts in San Francisco Saturday.

The guessers already had been busy. One predicted a new job for Ewbank as coach of the St. Louis Cardinals to replace Pop Ivy who resigned last week. Another had Ewbank's job being filled by Joe Kuharich who formerly coached the Washington Redskins and now is at Notre Dame. Earlier predictions had Kuharich becoming coach of the Chicago Bears.

Baltimore's 34-17 loss at Los Angeles Saturday sparked anew wondering over the security of Ewbank's job. The Rams had been able to win only three games out of the previous 12.

The loss left the Colts with a 7-6 record. This isn't much better than last season's 6-6 record after the Colts had been champions of the league in 1958 and 1959.

Baltimore reporters with the Colts in California reported Carroll Rosenbloom, chief owner, obviously was upset at Saturday's setback.

But he met all queries about Ewbank's status with a reply that no decision will be made until after a postseason conference among officials.

Ewbank came to the Colts in 1954 from an assistant's post with the Cleveland Browns.

In his effort to rebuild another champion this season, he added 14 new players. The best the Colts can do by beating San Francisco is finish third in the Western Conference. They were fourth last year.

With a tiger-tough defensive line that held enemy teams to an average of yards running during the season, the Hurricanes might make the going rough for Davis. That would bring up the question: How strong is the Syracuse passing?

"They'll be very tough to the defense," says Gustafson's top assistant, Walt Kitchenski, "because they pass off the run and every run could be a potential pass."

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Four gridders from Pennsylvania State University, headed by quarterback Galen Hall, monopolize the 1961 Associated Press All-Pennsylvania College Football Team. Albright and Pitt placed two players each on the first team.

The big squad, averaging over 6 feet, is composed of 10 seniors and a junior. The latter is Joe Iacone, West Chester State's powerful-running fullback.

The team, named Monday, was chosen by the votes of sports writers, television and radio news casters from all sections of the Keystone State.

Besides Hall, the three other first team members of Penn State's Gator Bowl-bound Nittany Lions are end Bob Nittinger, tackle Jim Smith and center Jay Huffman.

Albright is represented by end Gary Sheeler and back Gary Chapman, Pitt by guard Larry Vignali and back Fred Cox.

Rounding out the first squad are guard Richie Ross of Villanova and tackle Mike Semchicki of Lehigh.

Toby Barkman, a sophomore halfback at East Stroudsburg State College, was eighth in the nation in small college scoring the past season.

Toby Barkman

Barkman scored 90 points for the Warriors, just one point shy of seventh place finisher, Jim Pribula of West Chester State College.

The Chester, N. J., youngster also set an all-time Pennsylvania State College football conference record of 15 touchdowns this season. East Stroudsburg State finished the season with a 7 and 1 record.

While a junior in high school, the 6, 180 pounder scored 15 touchdowns and was selected on the New Jersey All-State team.

Bruce Thomas, a 6 foot, 212 pound tackle, hails from East Greenville, Pa.

Thomas, a junior, has been a starter for three years. He plays both offense and defense and in the past season set a three year high for individual tackles made by a tackle in one game.

He is one of the strongest players on the Warrior squad and was a consistent performer for coach Jack Gregory's eleven.

Maurice (Moe) Barber, who was mentioned on the honorable list, is a senior from Dickinson City. He was second in pass receiving this year and despite an ankle injury, played on both offense and defense in every game.

He also played for the winning East team in the Gem City Bowl at Erie, Pa., on Thanksgiving.

Two Penn States made the second team — back Roger Kochman and end Jim Schwab. West Chester also placed two on the No. 2 squad — end Bill Gray and back Jim Pribula.

Albright's George Reagan, an AP All-State first team tackle last year, found the competition so stiff this season he slipped to the second team.

Chapman, star passer who led Albright to its second straight unbeaten season, moved up to the first squad from the 1960 second team.

Albright's George Reagan, an AP All-State first team tackle last year, found the competition so stiff this season he slipped to the second team.

Ingo Plans Comeback; Okays Fight

GOTEBOURG, Sweden (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, former world heavyweight boxing champion, will start a comeback Jan. 12 or Feb. 2 against Joe Bygraves, former British Empire champion. It will be Ingo's first start since he was knocked out by Floyd Patterson in their third fight in Miami Beach, Fla., last March.

The 10-round match was announced by matchmaker Edwin Ahlquist and Al Phillips, British manager of Bygraves who also is making a comeback. It will be held in Maesshallen Arena in Goteborg, seating about 5,000 people. A definite date will be announced soon.

Johansson repeatedly has said he wants to fight Patterson again if the money, time and place are right. He still is involved in a tax dispute with the U.S. government. There has been talk of matching the 29-year-old Johansson with Sonny Liston, the No. 1 challenger from Philadelphia.

During the last two months Johansson has started to train again. He claims he is in good condition.

Johansson and Bygraves met once previously Feb. 24, 1956 at Goteborg, with Ingemar winning a decision after 10 rounds.

Bygraves, 30, already had beaten two opponents in his comeback that he hopes will lead him to a European title fight with Dick Richardson.

When Johansson fought Patterson for the first time, June 26, 1959, he was unbeaten in 21 pro fights. He was knocked out by Patterson in a return bout, June 26, 1960 and was stopped again by Patterson in a third match last March.

Patterson has fought only once since the Johansson series. The champion knocked out Tom McNeeley Jr. last Monday in Toronto.

Joe Louis -- Matchmaker, Eyes Liston

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis flew east Monday, hoping to line up a Sonny Liston bout for his first attraction as a Los Angeles matchmaker.

Louis announced Sunday the formation of United World Enterprises, Inc., an organization that wants to stage two title fights a year here in the Sports Arena or Memorial Coliseum and a series of other top bouts.

The organization professed no desire for a ring war against long-time Olympic Auditorium promoter Cal Eaton.

Louis is to meet Tuesday with Cus D'Amato, hoping to secure heavyweight champ Floyd Patterson for a June outdoor fight. He also wants to match champion Joe Brown and Cisco Andrade for the lightweight crown.

Warriors Near Record In 106-71 Win Over Bowie

By CURT PRINS

EAST STROUDSBURG State College came within two points of its single game basketball scoring record last night by blasting Bowie State College of Maryland 106-71 at Normal Hill.

It was the first win in three outings for the Warriors, who had previously lost to Scranton and Philadelphia Textile.

East Stroudsburg set the scoring mark last season in whipping Textile 108-93.

For the travel weary Bulldogs, it was the third loss in four games. As soon as the game was over, the club boarded a bus for a 5 1/2 hour trip back to the central Maryland school. The school also made a one night stand at Cheyney Saturday night.

Blistering Half
It was a blistering second half that blew the lid off for the Warriors. It was only 40-27 at intermission but East Stroudsburg began clicking on its fast break passes early in the second half and quickly pulled 30 points to the good.

Bowie, which has lots to Cheyney and Kutztown, was never in the game and trailed by 10 points with only five minutes gone in the first half.

The Bulldogs did manage a late first half spurt to pull within nine.

The Warriors could have named their own score if they had played any type of game in the first half. But time and time again the Hillers threw away passes with a player open under the bucket or when they did hit the open man, he was called for traveling.

Bowie was never able to take advantage of the Warriors' first half mistakes, mainly because the Bulldogs were too busy making their own.

Hopewell Nets 24
Little All-America Russ Hopewell, although he played only a little more than a half, was the high point man with 24. Scott Weaver was next in line for the Warriors with 17. ESSC meets Fairleigh Dickinson Wednesday night at Normal Hill.

Fred Neal and Jack Smith collected 44 of the loser's points. Neal a junior from the District of Columbia's Spingarn High, the same school that produced Elgin Baylor, had 24 points and Smith added 20. They were the only two Bulldogs that showed any consistency. Neal hit all but five of his field goal attempts but his mates could not get the ball inside to him through the Warriors' pressing zone.

Three other Warriors hit for double figures. They were Paul Grube and Tom Gross with 11 each and Will Peiffer, who had 10. Gross, a former Stroud Union player, set up most of the Warriors' fast breaks with his re-bounding.

Good Chance
The Warriors had a good chance to tie or equal the single game mark. Reserve Gary Vandenburg connected on a 16-foot jump shot with 1:25 left for the 100th point. With 40 seconds left, Vandenburg connected on a lay-up, making it 106-71. With 15 seconds left Bob Sweeney was in the clear for a lay-up but was called for travelling.

There were only two seconds left when the Warriors got the ball at halfcourt and Sweeney lobbed a pass to freshman Ed Bryan under the basket. Bryan got the shot off as the game ended but the ball hit the rim and bounced away.

Picked A Good One

Q. About eight months ago, my husband and I bought some National Cash Register stock, at $84.50 a share. Recently, this stock's market price has been over $140 a share. So far, we have been unable to find any explanation for this tremendous rise, other than vague rumors about a possible stock split.

All our investments have been primarily for long-term growth and, although we could realize a very nice profit by selling our National Cash Register stock, we wonder if we have hit up on a gold mine with unlimited growth potential. What's really behind this and how much higher do you think the stock will go?

A. You really picked a good one, didn't you? Congratulations. National Cash Register has been one of the top performers in the stock market during 1961. It sold as low as $61.875 a share at the beginning of the year.

It is expected that sales and earnings of this big, aggressive and well-managed company will be reported at new highs for 1961. And the outlook for the first half of 1962 is said to be even better.

In other words, this qualifies as a growth stock. In the stock market, these days, the growth stocks are the popular stocks. Their prices have been bid way up.

It is anticipated that National Cash Register will show earnings of about $2.75 a share for 1961. So, this stock is now selling at around 50 times earnings. That's high, by many standards. But it's not unusual for growth stocks these days—especially where there are rumors that the stock will be split.

A stock split or rumors of one normally makes a stock more popular. But, as has been pointed out here often, a stock split is of no real value—unless it is accompanied by an increase in the dividend payout. (The rumors about National Cash Register include the possibility of increased dividends.)

Hammermill To Buy Strathmore

NEW YORK (AP)—An agreement has been reached for Hammermill Paper Co. of Erie, Pa., to buy the remaining assets of Strathmore Paper Co., West Springfield, Mass. Hammermill now owns 51 per cent of Strathmore common shares.

The additional purchase will involve the exchange of 1 1/2 shares of Hammermill common for each share of Strathmore stock.

Finally, I have no idea "how much higher" this stock will go.

Q. According to my broker, the dividends paid on Burlington Industries common stock resulted in a yield of 5.5 per cent in 1960. According to the stock tables in the newspaper, the dividends paid on this stock amounted to 95 cents a share in 1961.

Based on this stock's current market price of about $24 a share, the 95 cents in dividends results in a current yield of just about four per cent. Am I figuring correctly?

A. Yes. But in this case, things aren't quite so simple. You figured the current yield correctly—by dividing the dividends paid over the past 12 months by the current market price.

Burlington Industries made four dividend payments on its common stock in 1961—30 cents a share on March 1, 20 cents a share on June 1 and Sept. 1 and 25 cents a share on Dec. 1.

Four dividends of 30 cents each were paid in 1960 and this stock sold as low as $16.375 a share that year. So, at various times in that year, the yield was well above 5.5 percent. But it's hard to understand why the broker mentions the past. You're inter-

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1961

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Two heads are better than one figuring things, so would several be if reasonable attitude and desire for sound co-operation and solutions are sincere. Good Mars rays for activity, ideas.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Stronger aim for enrichment of the mind while keeping the body fit, to be healthy to enjoy life, urged these problematical times. Other times have been hard, and many always succeed.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Don't begin anything till you have sifted facts and circumstances well. Know what you are about, and what others expect of you and themselves. Optimism, self-reliance fine aids.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Under Moon's and other planets' alternating vibrations it would be well to pull up reins for personal study, scrutiny of facts as separated from theories. Don't neglect small tasks.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—When some changes are made, ascertain whether they are correct suitable. If so, go along with them heartily, promoting quickened good will and the success, if not wise, recognize this, too.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—May be a day for waiting out returns, though it is a first-of-week beginning for some matters. Judge carefully what manner, means must be observed, taken. Some dandy advantages.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—You will enjoy yourself and help others to if you start with vim and enthusiasm (your usual self) and keep steady, brisk enough tempo without strain. Spread good thoughts.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Some small items may need overhauling. Tend to before they grow unwieldy. Mark in outstanding; Edw. G. Robinson, actor.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left or right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
